EXCELLENCE IN CONSTRUCTION Awards BANQUET 2022

Congratulations to the 2022 Excellence in Construction Award Winners!

Stacia Knight

Growing up next door to Green Country in southeast Kansas, Stacia Knight quickly became familiar with the always-changing Oklahoma weather. She would run back and forth between the TV and the front porch when storms would roll into her hometown of Independence, updating her family, watching the meteorologist's radar and keeping an eye on the sky. Stacia was in awe of the power and strength of Mother Nature. When it was time to think about a career, she decided to study what she had first fallen in love with many years earlier, the weather. Her passion is forecasting and preparing Green Country for whatever Mother Nature brings. It's important to her, that we are informed and know how to adapt, prepare and stay safe.

After graduating from the University of Kansas, Stacia headed to Tulsa. She first joined the Oklahoma Weather Experts as an intern in 2012. Stacia helped launch Six in the Morning Weekend and is now the weekday meteorologist at 4 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Stacia is happy to call herself an Okie; and to help keep you safe and ahead of the good, the bad and the ugly weather. Stacia and her husband, Josh, have two dogs, Max and Jackson.

Travis Meyer

Travis Meyer joined the News On 6 Warn Team on February 1, 2005, bringing more than 30 years of meteorology experience to the team. He is one of Northeast Oklahoma's most trusted and most respected meteorologists. Meyer understands the consequences that wind, drought, rain, heat and hail bring to rural families. He's lived it.

"Travis! Get down from there," was something he often heard out on the Nebraska plains where he was always trying to get a closer look at the sky. As young as age six, Meyer could be found climbing on the roof of a barn or windmill to get a better look at an incoming storm. Armed with his little Instamatic camera, Meyer captured pictures of what would become his passion.

Meyer graduated from the University of Kansas with a bachelor's degree in meteorology and geography. He has been honored with numerous service awards and earned the Oklahoma Association of Broadcasting award for best weathercast presentation. Meyer is a member of the National Weather Association and holds the American Meteorological Society's Seal of Approval.
